

Program Information

College:	Radow College of Humanities and Social Sciences
Department:	Geography and Anthropology
Program:	Anthropology, BS

Program Student Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of this degree from KSU, students will be able to:

Anthropological Knowledge & Theory

SLO 1. Identify, describe, and apply foundational theoretical paradigms from within anthropology's subfields.

SLO 2. Describe how anthropology is a holistic discipline and demonstrate ways in which multiple anthropological disciplines are used to explain human phenomena, advance scientific inquiry, and solve issues related to social justice.

SLO 3: Describe how anthropological questions, theory, and perspectives have changed our understanding of human diversity and human relations historically and contemporaneously.

Anthropological Research

SLO 4. Identify, interpret, and critically analyze anthropological research and appropriately cite sources.

SLO 5. Describe and explain appropriate quantitative and qualitative methods for anthropological research and identify interdisciplinary approaches for data collection and analysis.

SLO 6. Design, conduct, and write up an original, theoretically informed, research proposal and/or project in anthropology while accounting for time frame, region, and study group.

Professional Development

SLO 7. Explain and analyze examples of ethical and legal issues in anthropology in and outside of academia.

SLO 8. Assess career avenues grounded in an anthropological perspective and build transferable skills through an internship or research practicum experience.

SLO 9. Communicate anthropological knowledge through oral, written, and data presentation for diverse audiences.

-