Distance Learning Advisory Committee Minutes

11/11/2020

Members Present: Margot Lisa Hedenstrom (facilitator); Doug Moodie; Brichaya Shah; Christopher Welty; Melissa Driver; Julia Fuller; Joy Brookshire; Bill Bailey; Laura McGrath; Amy Howton; Zhigang Li

Dr. Hedenstrom made introductions and called the meeting to order at 3:00pm.

DLAC Committee

Members are asked to let Denise Robbins or Dr. Hedenstrom know if they are on the committee and are not getting emails or the DLAC email list. Likewise, if anyone is getting the notifications who is no longer on the committee, please let us know. We are asking that folks inform us of who are their representatives if they are no longer on the committee.

The purpose of the committee was discussed and reviewed. Members were also directed to the DLAC KSU website.

The purpose and function of the committee is:

This committee reviews all KSU and USG distance education policies and may make recommendations for revisions to existing policies or practices to the Faculty Senate. The committee makes and hears policy change proposals/recommendations to distance education policies. All future distance education policy or practice changes are first reviewed by this committee (at its behest or at the behest of the Faculty Senate Executive Committee or the entire Senate) and then, second, by the Faculty Senate for feedback before being implemented. Suggestions from department colleagues for distance learning

Members of group shared comments from their respective departments. Items included faculty needs, student needs and connectivity issues:

Faculty

- Education of faculty for online teaching is needed that is frequent and easily accessible on distance learning.
- Training for faculty is requested to be able to support students during this time (pandemic).
- Faculty have requested not to raise class size during this time for online classes
- Several persons report using Collaborate Ultra in their courses due to integration with D2L and ease of use. Some folks use teams and zoom. Teams does not allow you to see many students at the same time. Collaborate ultra is also preferred by several due to its ability to use breakout rooms.
- In some courses architecture courses and others there are technical challenges with courses and assignments.

Minutes Revised: 2/23/2021 – Correction of spelling of Christopher Welty's name and removal of duplicate listing of name.

- Sometimes more difficulty for faculty in some courses to know if a student is falling behind since faculty does not have face to face time with students.

Student needs

- Resources for students who are having difficulty during this time
- Support for students and training for students who have never had online classes. Recommend students be required to take a training session (MBA program does this).
- Student resources on D2L function and uses. Students have missed announcements, assignments, and material due to lack of knowledge about D2L

General topics:

- Connectivity issues and issues with internet or use of camera (band width and connections)

Rotating hybrids

Rotating hybrid courses were discussed. One member noted that many faculty doing rotational hybrids are faculty who in the past did purely face to face and they are not the experienced online with teaching. Some faculty have been successful with this and shared their experiences.

(Note: In KSU today email sent to faculty on a roundtable to discuss rotational hybrid courses to be held in December)

Feedback and Recommendations

Brichaya Shah responded to group on topics discussed at meeting and identified sources of support and also for faculty questions. Resources include instructional designers and website to support faculty. See information in minutes below.

Recommendations and follow up for group to share with their departments:

- 1) OLS learn online is a source of support at OLS.Kennesaw.edu still being worked on as it was put up and expanded quickly due to need for online classes during pandemic. OLS.kennesaw.edu
- 2) DLI@kennesaw.edu is an email faculty can use for their support with instructional design and support. Design development or other items that faculty need support with can be requested through this email.

Other discussion

Group asked if faculty senate had reached out to us for any issues or questions or feedback. Doug Moodie is our connection to the faculty senate, and there is currently no business or questions to report. Doug will share with us if there are needs from faculty senate that need discussion in our committee.

Minutes Revised: 2/23/2021 – Correction of spelling of Christopher Welty's name and removal of duplicate listing of name.

Summary of resources:

These are resources we discussed during our meeting. Please share with your departments so they will be aware of these resources.

DLI@kennesaw.edu can be a general email for questions on course design or support for faculty as well.

Meeting frequency

The group recommended that the committee meet once per semester and then if requested by any members.

Next steps/next meeting

- Dr. Hedenstrom will summarize minutes and send to DLAC team.
- Dr. Hedenstrom will send a doodle calendar at the beginning of spring semester to propose times for the group to meet in late January or February for a Spring semester meeting in February or March based on committee member availability.
