

Program Information

College:	Norman J. Radow College of Humanities and Social Sciences
Department:	Interdisciplinary Studies – Graduate
Program:	American Studies, Certification

Program Student Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of this degree from KSU, students will be able to:

1. Describe how key values and social practices associated with American life have evolved in distinct historical periods.
2. Explain the history and cultural productions of the United States in a broader context by applying transnational, international, hemispheric, and/or global frameworks of analysis.
3. Analyze relationships between cultural products and social values.